

Paper Recycling Services

from Greenzone

We all have it, even those of us with paperless offices, so why not let Greenzone make it easy for you to recycle your waste paper. We supply special containers to enable source segregation of your office paper and then we organise collections to suit your needs. The number of paper recycling containers you require will be agreed after a review of your company's waste audit to ensure the solution provided meets your particular needs.

At present businesses in the UK throw away in excess of five million tonnes of paper per year. Most of this paper is destined for disposal at landfill sites, but it could easily be recycled by using Greenzone's paper recycling service.

Over the next few years, landfill charges will be increasing significantly, which will subsequently increase your current waste disposal costs. If you implement new recycling and waste disposal methods, including taking the paper waste element out of your waste stream, you will not only save money now, but you will also be helping the environment.

Greenzone's paper collection service makes it easy to recycle waste paper from your offices. It is one of our initiatives to develop sustainable waste management programs and techniques that turn waste into a renewable resource.

Greenzone can provide special paper bins and bags that are designed for the collection of waste paper within the office or work environment. As a guide we usually recommend one bin for every four members of staff.

The full bags are then put into a separate container and collected for transportation to the nearest processing facility. The sorted and bailed paper is then sent to paper mills for recycling.
